

THE ADVENTURES OF ENTO-MAN (EPISODE IX)

TEXT: ANDREW BENNETT

ART: GAETAN MOREAU

When last we met, Ento-Man was investigating a smoking pyre of broken microscopes and entomology texts.

Who would do such a thing?

TRAPPED!!!

Later, elsewhere in melanogaster's compound...

You might say that my advertisement had a Halteria motive!

Soon you will have the privilege of experiencing my latest biotechnological creation. The Extractatrix 3000 simply and efficiently removes a portion of a specimen's DNA. In order to ensure a high enough yield for my purposes, I have set it to 100. Percent that is...

Join us next issue to see if Ento-Man can escape the tarsal grasp of Dr. melanogaster.
